Key recommendations to achieve sustainable regional security:

Strengthen regional early-warning systems, intelligence sharing, and defence interoperability to coordinate responses to shared threats.

Combine deterrence with diplomacy, confidence-building, and crisis management, while strengthening regional ownership of security.

Build stronger and more enduring strategic partnerships based on mutual interests and institutional cooperation across governments, businesses, universities, and civil society.

Strengthen economic resilience by safeguarding critical infrastructure and supply chains and accelerating regional integration in transport, energy, logistics, and digital connectivity.

Strengthen cybersecurity, counter information manipulation, protect critical digital infrastructure, and promote public awareness, responsible AI governance, and ethical standards.

Translate strategic dialogue into joint research, policy coordination, and crisis preparedness through deeper Gulf cooperation and engagement with European, Asian, and African partners.
